

Text at the position 100,100 (relative to the template!)

Text at the position 100,100 (relative to the template!)

Text at the position 100,100 (relative to the template!)

Text at the position 100,100 (relative to the template!)

The diagram consists of two red circles of different sizes. The larger circle is centered at (100, 100) and the smaller circle is centered at (250, 250). Two black lines are drawn across the image: one line passes through the center of the larger circle, and the other line passes through the center of the smaller circle. Both lines have a negative slope, with the line through the smaller circle being steeper.

Text at the position 100,100 (relative to the template!)

[illegible]